Cattle have a dual purpose: To make money and improve the land.

Johann Zietsman and Jaime (Jim) Elizondo Braun have taken this dual purpose premise to the logical extreme. Their selection methods utilizing the best adapted genetics with ultra high density grazing has resulted in much higher profitability per acre while greatly improving the land. Now you can learn directly from these masters of ranching. 3 Day Courses start in July.

Mr. Zietsman, is a renowned grazier and livestock breeder from Zimbabwe.
